Opening Prayer

Overall, what were your impressions of this book?

Compared to the other two we read of her, Journey to the Well and Martha. How would you compare?

What did you think of the background story, mother, father, uncle, husband?

What were your thoughts about Mary being married, were you surprised? Is that how you thought of her?

What did you think about 7 years of madness and 1 year of happiness? When she heard a voice that said beloved not yet?

Were you surprised that the Mary with spirits was the theme instead of the other impressions of her being a woman of the night?

What had you thought about Mary before reading the book, rumors of her being a prostitute? The wife of Jesus?

What did you think of the pre-Jesus meeting and the post Jesus parts of the book?

What did you think about her forgiving her uncle so quickly?

What were parts of the story that resonated with you and which ones did you question?

Did you like the ending?

How would you rate this book?
